

Succeeding with Apple doesn't have to be left to luck.

Lommen Abdo
MINNEAPOLIS, MN

THE CHALLENGE

Lommen Abdo is a law firm in the Minneapolis, MN and Hudson, WI area and the way they see it, success is not a matter of luck. They know business is about getting results and for 80 years this philosophy has guided them on their path to achieving a list of accolades including being one of the Best Law Firms in America in appellate and professional liability by U.S. News & World Report and having five attorneys listed in the “Best Lawyers in America”.

Benjamin DeMaris is the sole IT professional in charge of both branches of Lommen Abdo and believes deeply in the role that technology and Apple devices plays in their success. However, with 42 company-provided and “bring your own” iOS devices spread out across two locations, and a team that is constantly out in the field, keeping devices and client information secure and giving attorneys access to the tools and information they need, all while staying flexible and responsive to potential problems, can be huge challenge for IT departments - much less a one-man team.

THE SOLUTION

Business may always be about results but it's not always clear how to achieve them. When it came to securing Apple devices with Jamf Now the results spoke for themselves. Looking to quickly set up devices for new employees, require passcodes, locate, lock and wipe devices with sensitive information if lost, and give attorneys access to all their client information from anywhere – Benjamin found a perfect solution in Jamf Now. “Jamf has met our needs - fully and completely. Insurance companies have criteria we must meet to retain council and being able to not only house sensitive information but also locate, access and wipe any devices if the situation arises is critical.”

Jamf Now was made to help people in these exact scenarios look like heroes. With an easy, clean, crisp layout, it allows users to learn quickly and take advantage of powerful mobile device management capabilities without taking hours out of their day. One person is able to get an entire department's worth of work done and avoid issues. “And the price is absolutely right.”
